Dear Councillor Schofield

Auction of Craigwen, Amlwch

As you are aware we have been asked to consider whether we need to take any action under our Code of Audit and Inspection Practice and Public Audit Wales Act responsibilities as a result of your attendance on 19 July 2007 at the auction for Craigwen Amlwch, a property which was bought by the Isle of Anglesey County Council at that auction.

Thank you for meeting with Gareth Jones and Ian Howse last Thursday to discuss the matter in some detail.

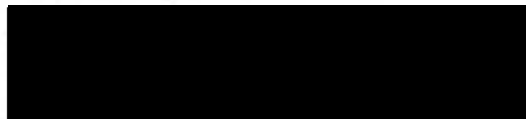

We have concluded from our review that your attendance at the auction is not relevant to our Code of Audit and Inspection Practice responsibilities or our powers under the Public Audit Wales Act 2004 as:

- you were there as a private citizen and not at the request of the Council; and
- we have found no evidence that you were aware the Council was bidding before your arrival at the auction.

Therefore we confirm that we will be taking no action in respect of your attendance at that auction.

If you have any queries in relation to this matter please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours sincerely

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP
